

Easter Concert and Dance.

On Monday April 1st the band boys will give a concert and dance at the opera house in this city, and when the time comes a general invitation will be extended to the public to attend. It is the intention to make the concert a feature of the entertainment, and make this part of it good enough so that even those who do not care to dance will be able to go for the concert alone.

The boys expect to buy some new uniforms the coming season and the money that is made in this manner will be turned into the treasury for this purpose.

Auctioneer.

If you want a first class Auctioneer call on or address E. J. Knauer, Grand Rapids, Wis. First class work guaranteed.

Easter Dance.

John Posley will give a dance at his place on Wednesday evening, April 1st.

Easter Millinery Opening.

I will hold my Easter opening of spring millinery at my store on the west side on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 26 and 27, on which occasion I extend a cordial invitation to the ladies of Grand Rapids to visit my place and examine my line, which will be more complete than any I have had heretofore. I will have also a line of the (Jage) Patterns to show you.

Miss G. Reed,
West Side.

Organized Brewing Company.

Frank Boyanowski has been interesting Sieveva Point capitalists in a brewing scheme for some time past and on Saturday of last week the company was organized, with Mr. Boyanowski as vice president. The company will be capitalized at $50,000, the greater part of which has already been subscribed.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

George Backer Has His Hearing before Justice Brown on Monday.

George Backer, the young man who was recently arrested for breaking into the Pittsville creamery and stealing a quantity of butter, had his hearing before Justice Brown on Monday, and the Judge bound him over to the circuit court for trial.

The chief witness against Backer at the examination on Monday was Robert Quamen, the young fellow who was arrested with Backer soon after the robbery. When young Quamen was examined after his first arrest he told a story that showed that he had nothing whatever to do with the theft, and he told it so straight that the officers came to the conclusion that he was not implicated in the business and he was discharged from custody. Later he was arrested again, and upon his arrest the second time and being confronted with some of the facts he stated that he had been lying the first time, and turning state's evidence disclosed the whole thing.

His story on the witness stand on Monday was to the effect that Backer induced him to go with him to Pittsville, telling him that he knew of a way of raising some money, but did not tell him that he was going to do anything of an illegal nature. That he went to Pittsville where the two of them got some supper, and later Backer had Quamen watch outside while he broke into the place and took out two tubs of butter. Then the butter was carried some distance and secreted under a log, after which the two went to Backer's shanty, where they remained until morning.

Quamen is a boy about sixteen years of age and has been living with his grandparents at Bethel, and is apparently a harmless young fellow of ordinary intelligence, and does not appear to be of a vicious nature.

The butter was subsequently found where Quamen stated that it had been hidden, and after Backer had been arrested his shanty was searched and a quantity of plunder was found which consisted of articles that had apparently been taken from stores, and part of which was identified by merchants at Pittsville. Another point that went against Backer's plea of not guilty is the fact that some years ago he was arrested and convicted of having stolen a quantity of butter from a creamery near Marshfield, at which time he went under the name of Lance Ironson.

Another party by the name of M. L. Ohmstead is also in the county jail and is supposed to be connected with the stealing that has been going on over in the Pittsville neighborhood. When Ohmstead was arrested he was taken to Marshfield and given a preliminary examination where enough evidence was found against him to justify the court in holding him until the circuit court convenes. Another party by the name of Frank Barwell was also arrested as being implicated in the crimes but he was discharged upon being examined.

A HOLDUP VICTIM.

F. MacKinnon is Robbed by Two Men while in Chicago last week.

F. MacKinnon was the victim of a holdup while in Chicago last week, by which he lost his watch and about thirty-four dollars in money.

Mr. MacKinnon was in Chicago on Friday to attend a meeting of wagon manufacturers, and after the meeting went with a number of friends to supper and from there to attend the theater. After the theater some of those in the party were going to take a night train for home, and Mr. MacKinnon accompanied them to the Illinois Central depot, or started to, but when he reached Michigan avenue he was stopped and holding them good night, started for his hotel, he being a guest at the Great Northern.

While walking along Michigan avenue and when near the public library two masked men jumped out from the shadow of the building, and one of them grabbing him on either side, they pulled two large and business-like looking revolvers into his face and told him to shell out, and be quick about it.

He started to comply with their request, but did not move quick enough to suit them and one of the men grabbed him by the coat and ripped it open, exposing the watch chain to view. This one of the men grabbed and jerked the watch out of his pocket and broke the chain, after which they went thru his pockets and removed what money he had amounting to about thirty-five dollars, all the time warning him in no gentle language to keep quiet if he did not want his head blown off.

As the men started off Mr. MacKinnon called after them and one of them came back and wanted to know what was the matter, when Mr. MacKinnon told them that they had held him a stranger in a strange city without a cent, and asked that they return at least a part of the cash.

The robber offered him a nickel for carfare, but Mr. MacKinnon was not dealing in such small margins and told the man that he would not take less than a dollar. After a little hesitation the man handed over a dollar and made himself scarce.

After it was all over Mr. MacKinnon reported the matter to police headquarters, giving as accurate a description of the men as was possible under the circumstances, when the police told him that he need very good judgment in not making any outcry or offering any resistance as he might have met with some rough treatment.

After visiting the police station Mr. MacKinnon went to the hotel and went to bed, and being rather tired was soon asleep. He does not know how long it was, but not having any watch, but after being in bed a short time the telephone bell rang and upon answering it found that some person at police headquarters wanted a description of the holdup. He furnished his midnight caller with the details and turned into bed again. He had just got to sleep again when the telephone again woke him up and he was asked to go over the details of the affair once more. Before he had got started, however, he discovered that his caller was a newspaper man who was looking for items for his paper. It is unnecessary to tell just what Mr. MacKinnon said on this occasion, but he said enough to impress his interviewer that his regard for the press was not sufficient to induce him to sit up in his night clothes for any great length of time.

Mr. MacKinnon might have been put to some inconvenience by the robbery had it not been for the fact that he has relatives living in Chicago who fixed him out with enough cash to enable him to pay his hotel bill and buy a ticket for home.

KILLED BY CARS.

Baggage man at Green Bay & Western Meets Instant Death Friday Evening.

Orville Simpson, who has been employed as baggage man at the Green Bay and Western depot for the past three weeks, was killed on Friday evening about ten o'clock by being struck by the cars while engaged in doing some work in the yards.

It cannot be told exactly how Simpson met his death, as the cars were on the main track and he was on the side track when he was struck, and when he was struck it was found that his head was crushed and that there were other fractures about the body.

Simpson jumped onto the platform of the passenger coach as it passed the depot platform, intending to ride to the west end of the yard where some work was to be done, and he had got only as far as the street that crosses the track, when he stepped off and fell from the platform. The baggage man saw him fall and went to his assistance, but the young man never moved, and it was evident that his death had been practically instantaneous. He had not been touched by the wheels and it is the opinion that he slipped and fell to such a manner that his head was struck by the truck on the coach with sufficient force to crush the skull.

Justice Keyes was summoned and impounded a coroner's jury which viewed the remains and rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Simpson was a man 27 years of age, his home being at Decker's Hill, where his father is employed by the railroad company. The body was sent to the undertaking rooms of J. R. Hagen where it was prepared for burial and next morning was shipped to Decker's Hill.

"The Village Parson."

A new and intelligent play. "The Village Parson" will be presented at the Grand Opera House Friday, March 22nd. This piece comes highly endorsed as one of the strongest dramas produced this year. Care and skill has been exercised in the construction of the plot, and the author has done his work well. The play deals with the affection of the heart, and holds the closest attention of the audience from start to finish. The company will be found fully equal in their respective roles, the management having used excellent judgment in selecting the players. The production also presents a series of stage pictures that are new, startling and realistic.

E. O. Voyer Pardoned.

E. O. Voyer received his pardon from Governor Davidson on Friday and returned to his home in this city the day following. It is doubtful if any man ever had a stronger indorsement from his home people for a pardon than did Mr. Voyer and it left little for the governor to do but grant him a reprieve, and there is no question but what his action in this respect will meet with the approval of all in this locality.

his foot operated upon for what appeared to be necrosis of the bone, but
which, to the surprise of the attending physician and the patient's friends,
proved to be a case of peculiar interest. More than a year ago, Mr.
Shelbourn noticed a small blister on
the inner side of his left foot, which
he thought was due to rubbing of his
shoe. He paid little attention to it
at first, but when the sore refused to break he called upon a physician for treatment. All treatment proved of no avail until last week, when he was taken to Grand Rapids to the hospital, where it was decided to open up the foot. This being done
with the expectation of finding necrosis of the bone and cutting down the bone, a piece of wood the size and
shape of a shoe-peg was found firmly lodged in the tissue. When and how this entered the foot is a mystery to
Mr. Shelbourn, he having absolutely
no recollection of such an accident
and there was at no time any pain experienced. Mr. Shelbourn will soon be home.

Died at Park Falls.
Chilton Times:—On March 23d, at Park Falls, Wis., Mrs. Elizabeth
Vincent, aged 82 years, 4 months
and 5 days.

Elizabeth Carey was born at Dorset
Plains, Dutchess County, N. Y., Oct.
28, 1821, where she grew to womanhood and was married to Michael Vincent in the early fifties. The Vincents came to Calumet county
and located in the woods near Hayton
in the town of Charles-town where they remained until 1881 when they moved to Loyal, Clark county, where Mr. Vincent died in 1884. Since that time Mrs. Vincent made her home
with her children and for some years
was a resident of this city at the home of the late Dr. J. E. Luce.

She was a generous hearted woman
and was loved and respected by every
one. For a few years she has made her home with her son, Michael, at Park Falls. Her remains were taken to Loyal and laid at rest beside her husband. She leaves three sons,
Samuel, of Hayton, Michael and
Joseph of Park Falls.

Both of the contracting parties are
well and favorably known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Potter and the groom a steady and industrious young
man who has been employed as salesman in the Tium & Briars store for a number of years.

The young people will make their

European and American Specialists
FAILED TO CURE ECZEMA
This Doctor Then Tried
D. D. Prescription
Read of the result.

For over 10 years I have suffered with Eczema on my neck, face, arms, and legs. I tried European and American Specialists, and none could do me any good. I was told to use ointments and creams, but they were like huge armor. I did not dare to wash them properly, as I found that every soap used made the disease grow worse. The European doctors knew no more than the American ones. I finally used D. D. Prescription Cure, carefully following directions, and I find it is all that you claim for it has completely cured me. I shall take great pleasure hereafter in recommending it to my patients.
Yours truly,

What we do for others we can just as surely prescribe for ourselves. No use to dose
the stomach; you can't reach the skin that way.
No use to go to health resorts; water won't kill parasites. There is only one scientific and logical treatment, D. D. Prescription.
It actually slaughters the parasites
in the skin that result in Eczema and all skin diseases. (It's a $1.00 bottle today, and you will be convinced.)

WE PROVE IT.
To convince you we have arranged with the D. D. Co., so that any sufferer from any

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY J. A. GAYNOR.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Marketing Cranberries.

An extract from a paper read by J. A. Gaynor before the Wisconsin Horticultural Society at its annual meeting in 1905.

The quantity of cranberries, or any other fruit, that will go into actual consumption in any season depends not only on the price, but also very much on the condition of the fruit in the hands of the retail dealer. The desire for, and the consumption of the fruit, is very much influenced by its appearance. I know of nothing that appeals to the appetite and causes a desire to purchase as much as hand-some fruit; and the existence of an abundant fruit on the market lessens the demand for and consumption of sound fruit.

The price and attractive appearance of the fruit, tending to the same, the amount that can be sold will depend also on the extent to which it is displayed, and the manner in which it is marketed. Many more cranberries will be sold in this city if they are well exhibited to view in every retail grocery and retail fruit store than would be sold if only kept and displayed at a single store. On a firm or rising market, every retailer will find it profitable to have his fruit for sale and display. On a falling market, he finds it a dangerous commodity to handle and will not give a second order until the last barrel of the first order is sold; and he finds that he has lost on account of the decline in price he may come to handle it altogether during the rest of the season.

So next to price and quality of the fruit a declining market has a depressing effect on consumption, with a rising market stimulating consumption.

The influence of all other fruits on the consumption of cranberries is so nearly constant, it may be omitted in making up the market equation for the sale of the crop. But the three independent variables, SUPPLY, QUALITY, and DEMAND, determine the price at which the crop should be sold.

Enough has been said to satisfy any grower that the marketing of fruit requires a special experience, skill and knowledge that is seldom possessed by the grower, and he can acquire such experience, skill and knowledge only at the loss of time and money that could be more profitably applied to his own special calling. Nearly all the losses the grower has to sustain result from either ignorance or dishonesty.

The remedy for reducing these losses on sales to a minimum is simple. Let the grower of a locality organize a sales company to act as their agent. This company can hire one skilled, experienced, reliable man to inspect the cleaning, grading and packing. Then they should employ an experienced, reliable shipper to look after the selling and distribution, and these two men should be supported, rather than dominated, by a board elected by the growers.

The success of this company will depend on the skill and integrity of these two men and the support they receive from the board of directors, and if the company is not able to select men who are not more successful in these respects than the average fruit grower has been in the past, the company should disband and the growers go out of business.

For Cathart's, let me send you free, just to prove merit, a trial size box of Dr. Shoop's Cathart's. It is a snow-white, creamy, licorice and sarsaparilla that gives instant relief to Cathart's of the nose and throat. Make the free test and see. Address: Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Large jars 50 cents. To the Tribune Editor:

In continuation of the statement in a late issue of the Tribune about keeping cranberries in water, I would say I furnished 12 glass cases full of cranberries for the Horticultural exhibit at the world's fair in 1903. They were installed in May from berries grown in 1902 and the cases were filled up with cold water only and were subject to the changes of temperature and light until a week or two after the fair closed, all summer, and were in good condition when I emptied them out.

In Florida all the merchants I saw, brought their cranberries to tight barrels packed in water paying big freight on water and barrels. I sold them the first dry berries, Jambos, and they kept fine all winter. In an early day here in Wisconsin it was a common practice to keep cranberries in crocks filled with water and cook them the year around.

Yours truly,
A. C. Baunet.

The following clipping from an article published in the Wisconsin Courier of March 14th, by Dr. C. R. Rogers, might be of interest to some of our growers:

There are said to be growers who have decided to remain outside of all co-operative organizations (while fully recognizing and admitting their own) and wishing others to do all the work and believing that they will reap the fruits of the enterprise, and yet receive a full share of the benefits. If such persons exist they are likely to receive one thing additional, viz: The pity of all fair minded and charitable disposed men. First, for their meanness, and next for their shortsightedness which the present writer predicts the events of the near future will demonstrate.

A Cranberry Trust.

A very lively written article from the New York Sun, lately published in these columns, allegorized the formation of a cranberry trust on Cape Cod. That article is a good illustration of how a man may write happily for a leading paper without any fundamental knowledge of the facts of the subject he is discussing.

A cranberry trust is an utter impossibility:

1. Because the producers of this commodity cannot control the supply.

2. Because if they control the supply they cannot control or shut out the competition offered by all other fruits on the market.

3. Because the article is not one of prime-necessity and the consumers can without any great inconvenience dispense with the use of this little luxury altogether.

4. Because the commodity is a perishable one must be sold promptly or the producer will suffer loss. Over 80 per cent of the cranberry crop must go into consumption within 90 days of the close of the picking season.

5. Because any attempt to put the price above what the supply will warrant, will retard consumption and result in a loss to the growers greater than any gain they could possibly make by an unwarranted advance in prices.

A Cranberry Sales Company has been formed on Cape Cod, similar to the one existing in Wisconsin; but its avowed object is to get this perishable commodity from the producer to the consumer in better condition and at less cost than heretofore, and to protect the growers from the waste and loss methods heretofore existing and if they succeed, the consumers will get better and cheaper berries than they could get under the old methods of distribution.

ELECTION NOTICE.

Office of the City Clerk, March 20, 1907.

To the electors of the city of Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin:

Notice is hereby given that a judicial and city election is to be held in the several wards and election precincts in the city of Grand Rapids on the 2nd day of April, 1907, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The name of the candidate for each office to be voted for, whose nomination has been certified to his office, are given opposite the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the names and initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot clerk can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate to any manner whom to vote for. If it be a general election these words are to follow: the voter if he wishes to vote for all candidates nominated by any party should make a cross mark X under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark, will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath. A less the names of some of some of the candidates of the party have been crossed or a cross mark be placed in the square under the name or at any place in the space occupied by the name or names of candidates in another column, and will be counted for any name written in lieu of one crossed. If the voter wishes to vote for some of the candidates of different political parties, he should make a cross mark under the name of each candidate he desires to vote for, or at any place within the space in which the name is printed. If he wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he must write the name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but no more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Official ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking the same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the country. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such persons disability, for the different offices are, for example, as follows:

ALTDORF.

Albert Vierter just bought the John Kuncynski farm including stock and machinery. Mr. Vierter knows a bargain when he sees it and knows that money invested in this community is sure to bring big returns. Kuncynski's people will go to the state of Washington where they have a large estate living.

Last Saturday night the school house in Jt. Dist. No. 4 was completely destroyed by fire. Insurance on building and apparatus is $750. A new school house will be built as soon as possible. A special meeting will be held next Monday at A. Hoser's to authorize the board and to borrow $100 and to make the necessary arrangements to begin building. Meanwhile it is intended to erect a new woodshed at once and finish the school year in that.

Mr. Provost of Randolph and Mr. Whitcomb of Grand Rapids, poor committee of the County Board, together with W. H. Hanks, Sept. were at Mr. Hoser's place last week to inspect his new barn. They stated that in the way of light, ventilation, cement floor, stanchions, etc. it is the best barn they have seen. Visitors are always welcome and they will not go away hungry nor need they bring a lunch with them.

O. J. Lee has recently bought another pure bred Poland China Sow from H. B. Gregory of Reedsburg. Mr. Lee is a strong believer in pure bred stock, having now Holstein Grosbeak cattle, Poland China Swine and Barred Plymouth Rock chickens. To this he is going to add Mammoth Bronze turkeys. Mr. Lee was at Fond du Lac and Sherry last week inspecting Holstein cattle with a view of purchasing some more.

Rev. Van Sever held services here Sunday and Monday.

The oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold has been very sick with pneumonia but is rapidly recovering.

The A. S. of E. held a meeting at the school house last Friday evening. The principal topics discussed were the advisability of all the farmers uniting upon the same breeds of cattle, swine, etc., as well as the same kinds of grain, as will not only boom the community but will add to the value when they wish to ship cattle and produce. A whole carload of one kind always bring a better price in the market.

Simple Cure For Eczema

If you are one of those unfortunate ones who have suffered for a long time or have suffered from skin disease, ask yourself why you have not tried that refreshing, soothing external liquid, D. D. D. Prescription.

Don't touch the stomach—cure the skin through the skin. After washing with D. D. D. soap apply a few drops of D. D. D. prescription and there is INSTANT relief!

No more dosing the stomach with useless drugs. No more smearing of greasy ointments on yourself to vex your temper and stain your clothes. A simple wash, and your agonies and sufferings disappear and with it soon the humiliation of showing a distressed face.

Thousands who have been cured have written their gratitude for D. D. D. Prescription and you can see their letters at our drug store. We vouch for the remedy and we back the words of the manufacturer. Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

DENTERVILLE.

Orville Simpson was accidentally killed on the railroad crossing of the G. B. & W. R. R. at Grand Rapids on the 15th instant and his remains were brought to his home here on Saturday and were laid to rest in the Denterville cemetery on the 18th inst. The deceased was 19 years 4 months and 15 days of age and the only child of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Simpson.

Orville was of a bright and cheerful disposition and well liked by all who knew him, and his musical talent made him very popular with all of his associates. He certainly will be greatly missed from our midst and the heart stricken parents have the sympathy of all the surrounding community in their sad bereavement. The funeral services were held at the home of the deceased on Sunday morning. The funeral services were held at the home of the deceased on Sunday morning.

Miss Lillian Bernard accompanied by Mattie Monagan were guests at the Monagan home Saturday and Sunday. Misses May and Edna Daniels of Daley were guests of Agnes Keenan Saturday and Sunday.

A. E. Gormer and Sam Hilos were business callers in your city Monday. Messrs Geo. and Merrill Ward of Babcock were calling on friends here the first of the week.

Mrs. Katherine Groom was a Pittsville caller the last of the week. Mr. Kidd has moved his family out on Mrs. Ella Hilos' farm two miles east of town and will try farming the coming season.

Messrs. James Gaynor and Martin Polakos were county seat visitors Wednesday.

Gilman Warner as usual, spent Saturday and Sunday at home returning to Business College by train Monday morning.

The two and one-half cent rate works disastrously for our people, increasing the fare to Grand Rapids from 35 cents to 43 cents. Whether we will or not, we are obliged to make the Nekosia loop and are now charged for it.

Mrs. Nellie Fitch and baby Josephine spent Wednesday afternoon at the W. R. Fitch home.

Mrs. James Gaynor has been suffering this week from an attack of la grippe.

La grippe and measles have invaded the A. E. Bennett home afflicting some of the school of the home.

Messrs. and Mesdames Andrew Soarls, A. E. Bennett, Robt. Rezin, S. N. Whitteley, Messrs. Thos. McGovern, Gilman Warner, Wm. Rezin and Misses Mayme Soarls and Myra Kruger attended the wedding of Miss Ada Foster at Grand Rapids on the 14th inst.

We are once we value the sentiments of all Grandmothers in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Woodell all the blessings of life.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Whitteley spent Thursday and Friday at Grand Rapids and Port Edwards.

Miss Kittle Cahill went to Walker to the Andrew Soarls home Tuesday evening.

Many of those who heard McNatt and many who did not, want the recipe for the McNatt whole wheat breakfast cakes. These cakes contain all the strength of the wheat as God made it. They have all the advantages of shredded wheat and are much less expensive. Shredded wheat costs about twelve cents a pound; these cakes cost for material less than two cents a pound. They have a delicious flavor of which one never tires. This recipe is taken from The Open Door.

Secure a quantity of "round" wheat, that is, wheat cleaned ready to be made into flour.

Boil one pound one half hour. Dry off the outside of kernels by exposure to air or over fire.

Mix with a little salt.

Grind through finest mesh of meat or sausage grinder (making an elastic flake.)

Press compactly and toast one side under pressure upon griddle without grease.

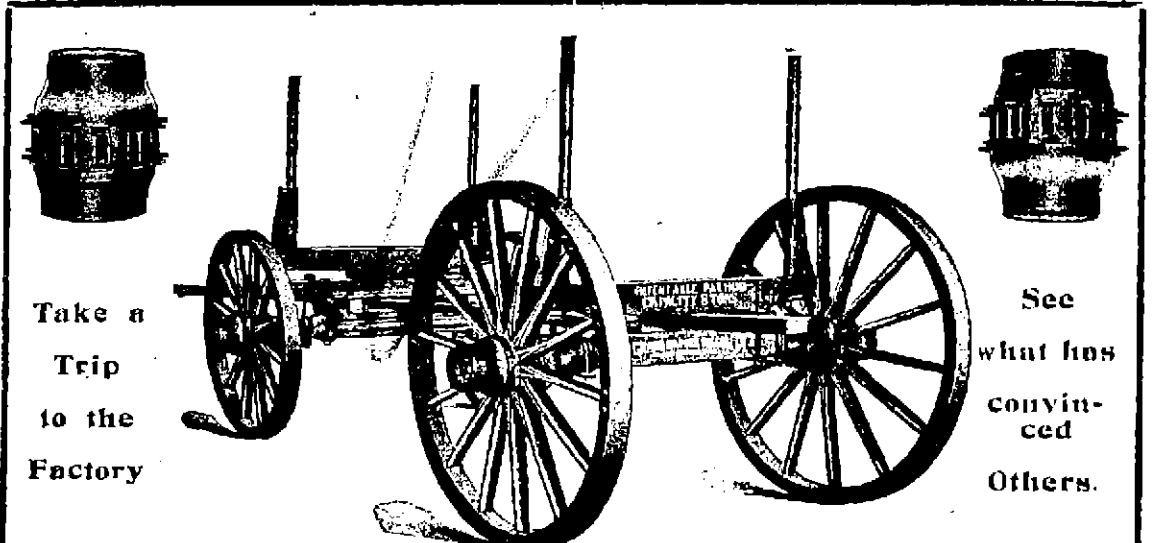

Eat hot with cream or butter.

Easter Concert and Dance.

On Monday April 1st the band boys will give a concert and dance at the opera house in this city, and when the time comes a general invitation will be extended to the public to attend. It is the intention to make the concert a feature of the entertainment, and make this part of it good enough so that even those who do not care to dance will be able to go for the concert alone.

The boys expect to buy some new uniforms the coming season and the money that is made in this manner will be turned into the treasury for this purpose.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

George Backer Has His Hearing before Justice Brown on Monday.

George Backer, the young man who was recently arrested for breaking into the Pittsville creamery and stealing a quantity of butter, had his hearing before Justice Brown on Monday, and the Judge bound him over to the circuit court for trial. The chief witness against Backer at the examination on Monday was Robert Quamen, the young fellow who was arrested with Backer soon after the robbery. When young Quamen was examined after his first arrest he told a story that showed that he had nothing whatever to do with the theft, and he told it so straight that the officers came to the conclusion that he was not implicated in the business and he was discharged from custody. Later he was arrested again, and upon his arrest the second time and being confronted with some of the facts he stated that he had been lying the first time, and turning states evidence disclosed the whole thing. His story on the witness stand on Monday was to the effect that Backer induced him to go with him to Pittsville, telling him that he knew of a way of raising some money, but did not tell him that he was going to do anything of an illegal nature. That he went to Pittsville where the two of them got some supper, and where they went to the creamery, where Backer had Quamen watch outside while he broke into the place and took out two tubs of butter. Then the butter was carried some distance and secured under a log, after which the two went to Backer's shanty, where they remained until morning. Quamen is a boy about sixteen years of age and has been living with his grandparents at Beloit, and is apparently a harmless young fellow of ordinary intelligence, and does not appear to be of a vicious nature. The butter was subsequently found in the looking room of a hotel in Beloit, and after Backer had been arrested his shanty was searched and a quantity of plunder was found which consisted of articles that had apparently been taken from stores, and part of which was identified by merchants at Pittsville. Another point that went against Backer's plea of not guilty is the fact that some years ago he was arrested for stealing a quantity of butter from a creamery near Marshfield, at which time he went under the name of Lance Lorton. Another party by the name of M. L. Ohmsted is also in the county jail, and is supposed to be connected with the stealing that has been going on over in the Pittsville neighborhood. When Ohmsted was arrested he was taken to Marshfield and given a preliminary examination where enough evidence was found against him to justify the court in holding him until the current court convenes. Another party by the name of Frank Barwell was also arrested as being implicated in the crime but he was discharged upon being examined.

A HOLDUP VICTIM.

F. MacKinnon is Robbed by Two Men while in Chicago last week.

F. MacKinnon was the victim of a holdup while in Chicago last week, by which he lost his watch and about thirty-four dollars in money. Mr. MacKinnon was in Chicago on Friday to attend a meeting of wagon manufacturers, and after the meeting went with a number of friends to supper and from there to attend the theater. After the theater some of these in the party were going to take a night train for home, and Mr. MacKinnon accompanied them to the Illinois Central depot, or started to, but when he reached Michigan avenue he stopped and bidding them good night, started for his hotel, he being a guest at the Great Northern. While walking along Michigan avenue and when near the public library two masked men jumped out from the shadow of the building, and one of them grabbing him on either side, they packed two large and business-looking revolvers into his face and told him to shut out, and be quick about it. He started to comply with their request, but did not move quick enough to suit them and one of the men grabbed him by the coat and ripped it open, exposing his watch chain to view. This one of the men grabbed and jerked the watch out of his pocket and broke the chain, after which they went down the street and removed what money he had amounting to about thirty-five dollars, all the time warning him in no gentle language to keep quiet if he did not want his head blown off. As the men started off Mr. MacKinnon called after them and one of them came back and wanted to know what was the matter, when Mr. MacKinnon told them that they had left him a stranger in a strange city without a cent, and asked that they return at least a part of the cash. The robber offered him a nickel for coffee, but Mr. MacKinnon was not desiring in such small margins and told the man that he would not take less than a dollar. After a little hesitation the man handed over a dollar and made himself scarce. After it was all over Mr. MacKinnon reported the matter to police headquarters, giving as accurate a description of the men as was possible under the circumstances, when the police told him that he used very good judgment in not making any outcry or offering any resistance as he might have met with some rough treatment. After visiting the police station Mr. MacKinnon went to the hotel and went to bed, and being rather tired was soon asleep. He does not know how long it was, not having any watch, but after being in bed a short time the telephone bell rang and upon answering it found that some person at police headquarters wanted a son at police headquarters wanted a description of the holdup. He furnished his midnight caller with the details and turned into bed again. He had just got to sleep again when the telephone again woke him up and he was asked to go over the details of the affair once more. Before he had got started, however, he discovered that his caller was a newspaper man who was looking for items for his paper. It is unnecessary to tell just what Mr. MacKinnon said on this occasion, but he said enough to impress his interviewer that his regard for the press was not sufficient to induce him to sit up in his night clothes for any great length of time. Mr. MacKinnon might have been put to some inconvenience by the robbery had it not been for the fact that he has relatives living in Chicago who fixed him out with enough cash to enable him to pay his hotel bill and buy a ticket for home.

Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting was held at the Lincoln High school on Monday evening. The number in attendance was not as large as it might have been had the weather been more pleasant, but there was still a good representation. Commisssioners elected were W. H. Reeves, first ward; H. H. Voss, second ward; W. E. Kellogg, third ward; Dr. J. J. Loosa, fourth ward; Otto Barn, fifth ward; E. Oberbeck, sixth ward; Dr. Frank Pomerville, seventh ward; J. W. Natwick, eighth ward, and D. B. Plibben to fill the vacancy in the fourth ward caused by the resignation of J. O. Jacobson. Treasurer Reeves read his report as treasurer, same being referred to a committee to be checked over before being published. Supt. Youker read his report of the progress of the schools during the past year, and told of some of the things that could be accomplished in the years yet to come. He also spoke of the fund that had been bequeathed to the public school system by the late J. D. Witter in connection with the establishment of a manual training and domestic science school as well as a commercial course, and told of what could be accomplished along this line. Prof Jackson was also called upon and paid a very high compliment to the public school system here. Rev. Staff was also called upon, but said only a few words, in his usual humorous and entertaining way, after which the meeting adjourned.

"The Village Parson."

—A new and intelligent play, "The Village Parson," will be presented at the Grand Opera House Friday, March 22nd. This piece has been highly recommended as one of the strongest dramas produced this year. Care and skill has been exercised in construction of the plot, and the author has done his work well. The play deals with the affection of the heart, and holds the closest attention of the audience from start to finish. The company will be found fully equal in their respective roles, the management having used excellent judgment in selecting the players. The production also presents a series of stage pictures that are new, startling and realistic.

E. O. Voyer Pardoned.

E. O. Voyer received his pardon from Governor Davidson on Friday and returned to his home in this city the day following. It is doubtful if any man ever had a stronger endorsement from his home people for a pardon than did Mr. Voyer and it left little for the governor to do but grant him a pardon, and there is no question but what his action in this respect will meet with the approval of all in this locality.

Cemetery Association Meets.

The annual meeting of the Forest Hill Cemetery association was held on Saturday evening, at which plans were started for the holding of a reception in the near future for the purpose of raising funds for the association. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. O. E. Brown, vice-president; Mrs. O. E. Brown, treasurer; Mrs. O. T. Hogen, secretary. John Hooten, manager. Messrs. B. H. Goggins, D. J. Arpin, A. L. Ridgman, and Ole Larson, directors.

For Sale.

—I have for sale several houses; some on west side and some on east side, from 6 to 10 rooms. Will be sold on time. Water, and other modern improvements. See me for particulars. Gus Nieman.

Lumbermen Meet.

The semi-annual meeting of the Wisconsin Hardwood Lumbermen's association was held in this city on Tuesday. About twenty members of the association were present, the meetings being held in the Forrester's hall.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Miss Anna Witte resigned her position in the Cohen store on Saturday. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Witt Jr. on St. Patrick's Day.

KILLED BY CARS.

Orville Simpson, who has been employed as baggageman at the Green Bay and Western depot for the past three weeks, was killed on Friday evening about ten o'clock on Friday evening while engaged in doing some work in the yards.

Baggageman at Green Bay & Western Meets Instant Death Friday Evening.

It cannot be told exactly how Simpson met his death, although one of the men at the depot saw him step off from the train and fall to the ground, and when he was picked up it was found that his head was crushed and that his shoulder was broken and that there were other bruises about the body. Simpson jumped onto the platform of the train, intending to ride to the west end of the yard where some work was to be done, and he had got only as far as the street that crosses the track, when he stepped off and fell from the platform. The brakeman saw him fall and went to his assistance, but the young man never moved, and it was evident that his death had been practically instantaneous. He had not been touched by the wheels and it is the supposition that he slipped and fell in such a manner that his head was struck by the track on the coach with sufficient force to crush the skull. Justice Keyes was summoned and impaneled a coroner's jury which viewed the remains and rendered a verdict of accidental death. Simpson was a man 21 years of age, his home being at Dexterville, where his father is employed by the railroad company. The body was sent to the undertaking company of J. H. Hagen, where it was prepared for burial and next morning was shipped to Dexterville.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Davis during the past week: Adelph Haeuser and Gusta Schiller both of the Town of Wood. James Odell and Mary Bloomfield, of this city. Gustav Heinrich of the Town of Rock and Bertha Rosling of the Town of Cary.

How to Save FUEL
Briefly—Buy a
Cole's Hot Blast Coal Stove
It cuts the fuel bill in two because it burns the gas arising from burning coal. Gas goes via the chimney in other stoves.
Cole's Hot Blast really makes $3.00 soft coal work like $9.00 hard coal. Come in and see that smokes less, and does away with dust, dirt and smoke

Died at Park Falls.
Chilton Times—On March 25th, at
Park Falls, Wis., Mrs. Elizabeth
Vincent, aged 52 years, 4 months
and 5 days.
Elizabeth Vincent was born at Dover
Plains, Dechance County, N. Y., Oct.
25, 1821, where she grew to woman-
hood and was married to Michael Vincent. In the early fifties the Vincents came to Calumet county
and located in the woods near Hayton
where they remained until 1881 when they moved to Loyal, Chilton county, where Mrs. Vincent died in 1881. Since that time Mrs. Vincent made her home
with her children and for some years
was a resident of this city at the
home of the late Dr. J. E. Luce.
She was a generous hearted woman
and was loved and respected by every
one. For a few years she has made
her home with her son, Michael, at Park Falls. Her remains were taken to Loyal and laid to rest beside her husband. She leaves three sons,
Samuel, of Hayton, Michael and
Joseph of Park Falls.

Homes in the Northwest.
—Why not settle on the government lands, or low price farm lands
that are improved, in South Dakota;
those staying near at hand instead of journeying to a distant region where the climatic conditions and social surroundings are widely different?
Special low rates are in effect the first and third Tuesdays of each month to all South Dakota stations on the North-Western line. It will pay you to investigate. New lines are opening up extensive territory for development, creating the chance of a lifetime. Ask your ticket agent to give you full particulars, with maps,
pamphlets, and complete information regarding railroad rates and the steps necessary to secure government land
free.

Diseases of the Chest, Throat, Liver, Heart, and Blood,
and Their Accompanying Symptoms.
—Dr. F. H. Brewer, who has made regular visits for years, has made it a business of a life time to investigate and study.
He has proved that these diseases
even in the stages considered beyond
the ordinary method of treatment, can be by a rational and mild means, be retarded, arrested or permanently cured.
New physicians have the opportunity that Dr. Brewer has had in investigating and examining the various forms of this class of diseases. The fact of his practice being constantly on the increase, goes to prove the efficacy of his treatment. His reputation and success becoming so extended, the number of years that he has enjoyed it, his devotion to the parents and studies of his profession,
is one of the strongest and most competent testimonials that can be given him.

Potter-Woodell.
Miss Adm Potter and John Woodell, both of this city, were married on Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. O.
Potter, on the west side.
Both of the contracting parties are
well and favorably known in this
city, the bride being the daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Potter and the groom a steady and industrious young
man who has been employed as salesman in the Tinn & Briere store for a number of years.
The young people will make their home in Rudolph on a farm belonging to Mr. Potter. They have many friends in this city who will unite with the bride in extending the heartiest of congratulations and wishing them a long life of happiness.

Almond Press—Walter Shelbourn
of Keane, returned to his home Tuesday from the hospital at Grand Rapids, where he had gone to have
his foot operated upon for what appeared to be necrosis of the bone, but
which, to the surprise of the attending physician and the patient's friends
proved to be a case of peculiar inter-
est. More than a year ago, Mr.
Shelbourn noticed a small blister on
he thought was due to rubbing of his
shoe. He paid little attention to it
at first, but when the sore refused to heal he called upon a physician for treatment. All treatment proved of
no avail until last week, when he
was taken to Grand Rapids to the
hospital, where it was decided to open up the foot. This being done
with the expectation of finding necro-sized bone and on cutting down to the bone, a piece of wood, the size and
shape of a shoe-peg was found firmly lodged in the tissues. When and how this entered the foot is a mystery to
Mr. Shelbourn, he having absolutely
no recollection of such an accident
and there was at no time any pain experienced. Mr. Shelbourn was now quickly recovered.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY J. A. GAYNOR.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Marketing Cranberries.
An extract from a paper read by J. A. Gaynor before the Wisconsin Horticultural Society at its annual meeting in 1905.

The quantity of cranberries, or any other fruit, that will go into actual consumption in any season depends not only on the price, but also very much on the condition of the fruit in the hands of the retail dealers. The desire for, and the consumption of the fruit, is very much influenced by its appearance. I know of nothing that appeals to the appetite and causes a desire to purchase so much as handsome fruit; and the existence of a sound fruit on the market lessens the demand for and consumption of sound fruit.

The price and attractive appearance of the fruit remaining the same, the amount that can be sold will depend also on the extent to which it is exploited, displayed and offered in the market. Many more cranberries will be sold in this city if they are well exhibited to view in every retail grocery and retail fruit store than would be sold if only kept and displayed at a single store. On a firm or rising market, every retailer will find it profitable to have his fruit for sale and display. On a falling market, he finds it a dangerous commodity to handle and will not get a second order until the last barrel of the first order is sold; and he finds that in prices he may cease to handle altogether during the rest of the season.

So next to price and quality of the fruit a declining market has a depressing effect on consumption, while a rising market stimulates consumption.

The influence of all other fruits on the consumption of cranberries is so nearly constant, it may be omitted for making up the market equation for the sale of the crop. But the three independent variables—SUPPLY, QUALITY and DISTRIBUTION—must always enter into the equation that determines the price at which the crop should be sold.

Enough has been said to satisfy any grower that the marketing of fruit requires a special experience, skill and knowledge that is seldom possessed by the grower, and he can acquire such experience, skill and knowledge only at the loss of time and money that could be more profitably applied to his own special calling. Nearly all the losses the grower has to sustain result from either ignorance or dishonesty.

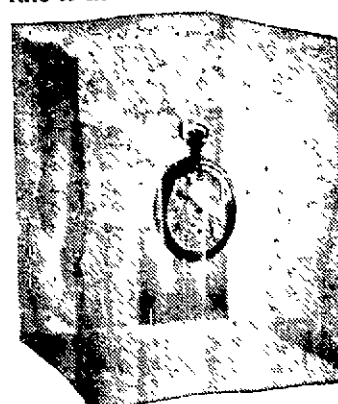

The remedy for reducing these losses on sales to a minimum is simple. Let the growers of a locality organize a sales company to act as their agent. This company can hire one skilled, experienced, reliable and honest man, capable of seeing to it that the cleaning, grading and packing. Then they should employ an experienced, reliable shipper to look after the selling and distribution, and these two men should be supported, rather than dominated, by a board elected by the growers.

The success of this company will depend on the skill and integrity of these two men and the support they receive from the board of directors, and if the company is not able to select men who are not more successful in these respects than the average fruit grower has been in the past, the company should disband and the growers go out on business.
